BIG BILL AT STAR

"Man on the Box" Tonight and Mutual Masterpiece Sunday; Saturday is Comedy Night

Tonight (Friday) at the Star theatre will be presented "The Man on the Box," with Max Figman and Lolita Robertson in the title parts. The production is a Paramount feature and is said to be even more thrilling than the play and more attractive than the novel. The five big reels of the picture are chucked full of rich comedy and thrills. "The Man on the Box" is being presented here at a big expense and should be witnessed by a packed house.

Sunday night Manager D. W. Briel has booked the Mutual Masterpiece which has been received with applause throughout the East, and is now on its way to the Coast. "The Outlaw's Revenge." The play is typically Mexican in action and atmosphere and depicts the tragic story of a famous Mexican general's wonderful career. It is an overpowering melodrama, full of sentiment and adventure, with tremendous battle scenes, with real Mexican soldiers. "The Outlaw" is well acted by a well chosen company and tells the truth about Mexico. Many Lordsburg people will remember the glaring advertisement in the Saturday Evening Post recently, costing thousands of dollars, and telling of this picture. The prices for "The Outlaw" will be 10c and 20c.

The Master Key is being shown every Tuesday evening and is drawing large crowds.

Saturday night will be comedy night and some high class comedies will be shown, together with a drama.

G. C. Royall, Assistant District Attorney, after a short vacation, is back in town and will be in court No. 8, before Justice of the Peace W. F. Foster on Tuesday, the case of the State vs. Seferiano Carrasco being before the court. He was bound over, awaiting the action of the grand jury and being unable to furnish bail, was brought to the local jail Thursday evening.

Mr. Royall, accompanied by "Red" Scrimphor, left Wednesday afternoon for the southern part of the county, where they will spend about four days. Mr. Royall is making an effort to investigate pending charges of cattle theft and disorder. So far as is known, he is the first district attorney to "cover" this section of the country, is the first district attorney to MORTGAGES NEED NOT BE RECORDED

Chattel Mortgages may be filed in the original or copy, with the county clerk and are subject to cancellation upon the filing of a release. However, is desired, mortgages may still be recorded, but this is not necessary.

BUILDING GOING ON

Contractor William McSwain has just finished the erection of one of the most beautiful and modern ranch houses in the Southwest for the High Land Cattle Company at their headquarters nine miles northwest of Lordsburg. The residence is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hunter and is in every detail as complete as any of the city homes. The structure is a six-room pebble-dash adobe with bath and closets. It is surrounded by an eight foot porch on all sides, which gives it a touch of southern architecture. The floors are dressed and finished and all the rooms are carpeted. The bath and kitchen are finished with white enamel and the windows are built on the spacious "cottage" style. The house is complete in every detail and is attracting much attention among the ranchers in the High Land vicinity.

Work was begun on Thursday on the erection of a modern six-room cottage for Mrs. Eva Marshall of this city on the lot one block south of the Marzalis property. The house will be made of adobe, pebble-dashed and will have a bath and porch. Contractor McSwain is doing the work and has brought several carpenters here to aid him. The new residence will greatly improve the looks of the section in which it is being built.

A contract has been let for supplying 5,000 adobes for the new residence soon to be built by Joe Olney. Mr. Olney states that if Lordsburg is incorporated he will build a town but if it isn't he will build at Shakespear.

Contractor Jack Heather began work on the new 85 Mine store Monday. The building will be one of the largest of its kind in this section. It will have a neat interior finish and will be pebble-dashed on the exterior. Mr. Heather has a crew of men on the job at the present time.

MINES AND MINING

LORDSBURG MINING CAMP PERMANENT

Much has been said as to the permanency of the mining camps tributary to Lordsburg. It is commonly known that the local ore is low grade in metallic values but high in silica, which is in demand for converter-lining at the smelters. Many have spoken dubiously as to the demand for the local ore, which might cease if silica should be found nearer the smelters at Douglas and El Paso. The cloud of doubt is lifted with the information that contracts for all the ore, the local mines can produce have been signed for ten years in advance, guaranteeing the permanency of Lordsburg mines for at least that length of time and possibly a great deal longer period. Lordsburg is a good all around investment, first, last and all the time.

ATWOOD CLOSES FOR LARGER EQUIPMENT

Owing to inability to care for the mine water and the necessity for machine drills and other equipment, the Atwood Copper Company closed operations the latter part of the week. The water in the Atwood has been removed by "bailers" and station pumps but the quantity was too large to be removed economically so work was suspended until sinking pumps and a compressor and drills are received.

During the past period of activity the Atwood, under the management of J. L. Wells, has shipped over 2,000 tons of ore to the Copper Queen smelter at Douglas, Ariz., approximately 45 tons per day. The ore is in great demand at the smelter and has brought the operators good returns. The Atwood ore occurs in one of the best defined veins in the Southwest and has suffered very little faulting. The walls are clean and the vein matter is practically all shipping ore. The values of the Atwood are increasing with depth and doubtless with new equipment the mine will prove to be one of the biggest propositions in the local camp, if not in the southwest.

CATERPILLARS GO TO SAFFORD

The Caterpillar tractors and all paraphernalia connected therewith departed overland Saturday for Safford, Ariz., where the machines will be used for an ore haul from the Graham mountains. Mike Sutton was in charge of the outfit, Manager J. B. Downey joining it at Duncan. The "caterpillars" were very successful in their work between the ore platform and the 85 mine and will no doubt be even more successful on their new haul owing to much better roads on which to travel.

Messrs. Richards and Wilcox, prominent mining men from northern Grant county, were in the city several days this week, having just completed an examination near Morenci. Mr. Richards is a former geological survey engineer and several months ago made an extensive visit to the various mining camps of Grant county. Mr. Wilcox was formerly manager of the Silver Cell mine at Pinos Altos. They were well impressed with the future of the local camp.

The following press dispatch from Santa Fe was sent out Saturday:

Terzo Acosta of Lordsburg today filed suit in the United States district court here against the "Eighty-Five" Mining Company. Plaintiff asks damages to the amount of $27,000 as compensation for the loss of a smashed finger, which he claims developed blood poisoning and had to be amputated as a result of negligence by the defendant company's medical department. Plaintiff is a former employee of the company and received the injury while working at the mine.

Bank Robbery

Telegraphic advice received here Wednesday afternoon told of the robbery of the bank at Metcalf, Ariz., at noon the same day. The reports declare that one man held up the cashier, single handed and escaped with $4,000. Officers throughout the southwest have been notified and posses are out in search of the man.

STUDENTS NUMBER 200

Albuquerque, N. M., Aug. 12.—According to a preliminary statement made today by Registrar C. E. Hodgkin, the enrollment of the University of New Mexico when it opens next Tuesday, August 17th, will be more than 200, practically all of whom will enter work of full college grade. This is an increase of more than 100 percent in the student body from three years ago, when President David A. Boyd assumed direction of the institution; and when the total enrollment was 99. Two years ago the total was 110, last year 137, while the total of those doing full college work has increased from 42 three years ago to over 200 who will begin work next Tuesday. The great period of growth predicted for the State University when Dr. Boyd took charge of it, is now beginning to be realized.
